The International Master in Interior Architecture and Scenography of Luxury is a two-year course that prepares students to design unique environments and outstanding settings for retail or cultural events. Knowledge of the codes of the luxury industry, the use of appropriate materials, attention to detail and a particular sensitivity to lighting and sound design all contribute to creating a feeling of exception.

The semantics of spaces and an understanding of brand identities are an integral part of the design process. As part of its forward-looking approach, École de Condé Paris trains mastery of all the steps involved in producing and managing an interior architecture and scenography project. Thanks to an international teaching staff and students coming from all over the world, students are developing intercultural skills and fluency in English. Collaborative partnerships with major brands and industry, as well as company experience with international internships facilitate professional integration.

PEDAGOGICAL OBJECTIVES

- Strengthen the student's creativity
- Manage and drive projects in the luxury sector
- Acquire team management and strategic skills for luxury market
- Understand the stakes of the environmental transition
